Parents Object As Third Readiness Class Is Blocked By Committee

By Linda S. Corbett

A third readiness class, to accommodate youngsters from all over town who would benefit from the program, failed to get the majority support of the school committee Tuesday night, despite parental charges of "unequality."

As many as 18 youngsters who have been recommended for the program by school personnel, couldn't get into the two readiness classes at Bancroft and West Elementary next fall if they wanted to, because they're full.

Asst. Supt. Charles Mitsakos said Tuesday night they had received more parental support for the program "than we could have imagined," and the classes were filled by pupils from those two schools, plus Doherty transfers.

Parents of the pupils from South,

Shawsheen and Sanborn, were told their youngsters would be accommodated within their regular classrooms, but Corinne Gediman, 32 Algonquin Ave., questioned the fairness.

"I'm concerned about the inequality of services," she said. "The youngsters might be accommodated," she said, "but not in the same way as those in readiness classes," with the same equipment and facilities.

She said they would be put at the bottom of the first grade and taken out for special classes, and that they'd end up with a poor self-image, "opposite, from the thrust of the readiness program."

She said that in the spring, when the administration made a plea for parents to go to town meeting and support the budget, the impression was that there would no longer be special programs for certain schools, but rather townwide programs that would benefit all youngsters.

If the two readiness classes were for the whole town, she asked, "how do you rationalize filling them with youngsters just because they live in those Bancroft and West geographical areas?"

Maureen Wrobel, 8 Eastman Road, added that she felt the school committee should give a certain quota of spaces to each school.

"Don't you feel it's an obligatory thing?" she asked.

Mitsakos said that the plan all along had been to give first option to the youngsters who attended the school where the

Reflections On A Ministry Filled With Tenderness, Love

By Linda S. Corbett

"Weary but elated," the Rev. J. Edison Pike settled back into his easy chair Monday, to reflect on the marathon retirement activities of the weekend and an Andover ministry of 21 years.

"We feel like we've been through a rock crusher," he said, "but one filled with tenderness and love."

He had begun his first day of "freedom" by writing a farewell letter of thanks to his Christ Episcopal Church Parish.

"I thought it would be hard to do," he says, "but it turned out to be easy. I started thinking about all the things we've done together and I suddenly realized there is a strong, abiding, wonderful kind of relationship here. I don't have to recapitulate in a letter all the events of the last couple of weeks. They were symbolic of the love and service that we have all shared so abundantly."

His retirement weekend began Saturday morning with a softball game — the Girl's Choir versus the Servers. Mr. Pike played a while on each team, and afterward was presented with mementos from the children, including a handlettered poster that read, "God Loves You and So Do We. We'll Miss You."

Saturday night hundreds turned out at a reception in his honor at the Christian Formation Center. Long a leader in the ecumenical movement here, Mr. Pike relays with a smile the comment of a friend from St. Augustine's: "How nice," the friend said, that his affair could be in a Roman Catholic hall.

A "supreme honor" was paid to Mr. Pike during Sunday morning's farewell service: the surprise announcement that he had been elected "rector emeritus" by the Wardens and Vestry. Only about one out of a hundred rectors is so-named, he says.

The status becomes official on Jan. 1, 1981 — the day after his rectorship technically ends (he's now on a seven-month leave of absence).

Bishop of Massachusetts John Coburn gave the sermon at Sunday's service, which was celebrated by the Pike's son Clifford, himself, now rector of St. Peter's Church in Paris, Kentucky.

"When a son grows up in a rectory family and goes on to be one," Mr. Pike says, "there's no greater compliment."

The Pike's other three children were present as well: Margaret Pike Cronin of Andover, J. Edison, Jr., of Andover, and Betsy Pike Higgins of Lufkin, Texas; and four grandchildren.

Yes, Mr. Pike admits, it's a little un-

Hearing On Basic Skills Standards

A public meeting on Andover's Basic Skills Improvement Policy plan will be held in the Large Group Room at Andover High on Tuesday evening, June 10, at 8 o'clock.

The public will have an opportunity to review the skills that have been identified as those required to show minimum competence in reading, math and writing for Grades 3, 6 and 8.

In addition, the town-wide committee that has formulated An-dover's plan will present its proposals for testing these skills and for remedial programs for those students who don't show minimum competency.

The Andover effort is part of a state-wide basic skills improvement program mandated by the State Department of Education.

Copies of the proposals are available in each school office as well as the Reference Desk at Memorial Hall Library.

Cable TV Applications Reviewed

The committee examining applications to initiate cable television service in Andover, is currently reviewing three proposals.

The study committee headed by Atty. Reginald Marden has received applications from Continental Cablevision of Lawrence, Rollins Cablevision, headquartered in Atlanta, Ga. and Andover CATV Co., Inc., 1 Acton Place, Acton.

Atty. Marden, along with members John Sweeney and James Caldwell, will review the proposals submitted and hearings will be scheduled prior to their making recommendations to the selectmen.

The selectmen are the awarding authority, should it be determined that cable television is feasible for Andover.

Elm Tree Injector Available

The Andover Garden Club will offer any town resident — as well as the town's tree department — the use of an elm tree injector tank to "vaccinate" the town's elm trees.

The tank injects a fungicide into the elm to protect it from disease. Persons interested should contact Mrs. Miles Pendleton for further information.

Bus Made Available In Vale

The Ballardvale Village Improvement Society announces that on Monday nights during the month of June, buses will be leaving the Ballardvale area to visit the Memorial Hall Library to use their facilities.

Buses will leave the first stop in Ballardvale at 6:15 p.m. and return home at about 8:15 p.m.

The bus route is as follows: First stop, corner of Yardley and Tewksbury; second stop, Corner of Center and Tewksbury; third stop, corner of Andover and Dale; fourth stop, corner of Andover and High; fifth stop, South School; sixth stop, Ballardvale Playground; seventh stop, corner of Hall and Andover. All ages are welcome.

Meeting On Goals June 16

The selectmen and town manager will meet at town hall to discuss setting goals for the town on Monday night, June 16. The meeting was postponed from the originally scheduled May 31.

Committee To Take Long Recess

The Andover School Committee has started its summer schedule, with meetings set only for July 15 and August 19. They may call a quick session later this month, however, if a contract ratifications is in order.

They'll meet Sept. 9, the first Tuesday after the beginning of school, and Sept. 23.

They moved back to Stowe School this week, after meeting in a warmer Andover High over the winter.

Theatre Party To Benefit Louise Trahan

The Andover Lions Club plans to donate all funds raised through their Theatre Party to a fund for Louise Trahan, the recent Route 93 accident victim, to help meet the medical and other expenses facing her.

Tickets are currently on sale for the Lions second annual theatre party to be held Sunday, June 29 at the Town and Country Playhouse in Salem, N.H. "Heaven Can Wait" is the featured presentation at the 7 p.m. show.

The Andover Lions is particularly pleased at the response to this year's effort from other Greater Lawrence and Greater Boston Lions Clubs to the Louise Trahan benefit program. Already one other Boston area club has forwarded a $70 donation to the Andover Club to be added to the total proceeds raised and other clubs have signified an intent to participate.

Tickets for the June 29 show can be obtained by calling John Simko, John Obert, or Arthur Lafond, or by mailing your subscription to Andover Lions Club, c/o John Simko, 36 Main St., Andover, Ma. 01810.

Theater At Brooks To Begin New Season

The Theatre at Brooks announces its third season, opening on June 19 with 'P.S. Your Cat Is Dead,' an adult comedy by James Kirkwood. P.S. stars Al Brenner and Andy Wolfenden, directed by Dick Seguin, who won critical claim last year at TAB for his direction of 'Dial M For Murder.' This production is not for children, as the dialogue and theme are for mature audiences only.

On July 10, 'Onion,' an original musical comedy written by area residents Pam Palmer and John Hopkins, with Music and Lyrics by Larry Robertson, will have its "World Premiere" at Brooks. This play has generated support from many theatre people. The musical stars John Palmer, Anita Cali, Barbara Dempsey, David Frothingham, Jack Flynn, Nancy Wilson Hodge, Anita McCarthy and many more.

To offer something different to local audiences than the usual summer theatre, on July 24 TAB will present "A Night Of Comedy" with three hilarious one act plays — 'Lovers and Other Strangers,' 'Noon,' and 'I'm Herbert.'

'I'm Herbert' unites two well known area actors, Pam Palmer and Dick Seguin. 'Noon,' by Terrence McNally, is an adult comedy and stars David Frothingham and Anne Viti. 'Lovers and Other Strangers,' presents Gene Boles and Fran Fortune. All three one act plays are directed by Fran Richard.

TAB will close its season with 'Bus Stop,' a traditional comedy by William Inge — the comedy that made Marily Monroe famous. 'Bus Stop' will be directed by veteran Director and Actor, Elliot Winnick, and stars Jay Pennick and Kimberly Jamesson.

Further information may be obtained by calling The Theatre at Brooks Box Office between 3 p.m. and 9 p.m. every day.

At race tracks, the favorite wins fewer than 30 percent of all horse races.

Gifts For Louise Trahan

Stella Koravos of Ford's Coffee Shop, Main Street, has started a medical fund for Louise Trahan, the Haverhill school teacher who was critically injured when a boulder struck her car beneath the High Plain Road overpass several weeks ago. Customers filled a gallon jar (by the cash register) with donations last weekend during Stella and Tom Ford's 26th anniversary. Customers were treated to coffee and tea on the house Friday and Saturday.

Behavior Day

If you're curious as to why giraffes have very long necks and tongues, or have other questions pertaining to animal behavior, this Sunday, June 8th, may be a perfect opportunity to join in the fun. June 8th is the second annual Behavior Day at the Walter D. Stone Memorial Zoo in Stoneham. Many animals at the Zoo will be fed in ways more natural than usual to allow the public to observe how they might behave in the wild.

Dr. Deborah Schildkraut, Director of Behavioral Research for the Zoo and assistant professor for the University of Lowell, has been working with the Stoneham Zoo staff to set up numerous events, scheduled every fifteen minutes between the hours of 10 and 3 p.m.

Dr. Scarito Heads YWCA

The annual meeting of the Greater Lawrence YWCA was held recently at the Red Tavern in Methuen. Atty. Patricia McGovern, guest speaker, gave a presentation on the Juvenile Court system in Massachusetts, which stimulated many questions afterward.

Dr. Nina E. Scarito was elected president of the Association for the coming year, with Maura Mauzi of North Andover as first vice-president, Gail Corcoran of Salem, N.H., second vice-president, Maria Quintiana of Methuen as treasurer, Alice Kramm, also from Methuen, as assistant treasurer and Amelia Standra of Lawrence as secretary.

Immediately following the annual meeting a short Board meeting was held, at which time the following special events for the coming months were discussed:

A Surprise Flea Market to be held at the YWCA 38 Lawrence Street, on Sunday, June 8 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., an Italian Spaghetti supper, to be held at the YW on Saturday, June 21 from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., and a Theatre Party to be held Wednesday, July 23, at the Town and Country Play House in Salem, N.H., to see South Pacific.

Tickets for both the Italian Spaghetti supper and South Pacific may be obtained at the YWCA front desk or from the following Board members:

In North Andover: Lolly Aitken; in Andover: Ann Daly, Pamela Desmarais and Rose White.

In 1869, Massachusetts created the first bureau of labor statistics in the world, according to the U. S. Department of Labor.

Special Exhibit

26 PARK STREET

475-0830

On May 28 at Christ Church, the Andover League of Women Voters enjoyed a pot luck supper and entertainment at its Annual Meeting. At the end of the meal, members sang "Happy Birthday" around the glow of 60 candles on a cake baked and beautifully decorated by Karen Robinson, daughter of out-going League president Joyce Robinson. The candles signified 60 years of the National League of Women Voters organization.

The membership next witnessed "The League Reviews Its' Year in Fashion." Co-ordinated by Jean Leuner, it was a witty, often hilarious style show of areas the league is involved in.

During the business part of the evening, the budget and local program for 1980-81 were adopted. After much debate local dues were raised and the new board was voted in. Officers are: president, Ginny Cascino; program, Pam St. John; organization, Linda Carpenter; secretary, Theresa Reichert; treasurer, Mary Smith.

Other board positions are held by: Judy Medler, units; Cris Holmes, voter service; Ronnie Haarman, bulletin; Peggy Atanasoff, publications; Marily Fagan, hospitality; Jean Leuner, membership; Sue Redgate, member records; and Elsie Wu, public relations.

Also on board are: Ellen Marcus and Thea Bakulski, natural resources coordinators; Marge Bradshaw, legislative action and housing; Kathy Murphy, state health care study; Lynda Ruma, women's issues; Joan Rosenblatt, observer corps coordinator, and Rosemary Filipello, chairperson for the newly adopted local study of "Community Solutions to Vandalism in the Town of Andover."

Local Youths Graduate From P.A. Today

Forty-six Andover and North Andover students are among the 387 seniors participating in Phillips Academy's Commencement Exhibition Exercises today, in the Academy's 202nd year.

The graduation festivities began yesterday afternoon, when the deans of each of the school's residential clusters held receptions for their seniors and their families, followed by a buffet supper on the Great Lawn of the Academy. The senior class provided entertainment for the families and the faculty, and the evening closed with the candlelight ecumenical Baccalaureate service in Cochran Chapel.

This morning at 9:30 a.m., the Clan McPherson Bagpipe Band led the Commencement procession down the campus and up the Elm Arch to the Great Lawn, before the steps of Samuel Phillips Hall, where the outdoor Commencement takes place.

The Exhibition Exercises began with invocation and prayers by the Academy's chaplains. After initiation of the new Cum Laude Society members, music by the Brass Ensemble and awarding of four special commencement prizes to seniors, Headmaster Theodore R. Sizer addresses the graduating class.

diplomas symbolically to the class officers.

After the ceremony, the new graduates follow a long tradition by forming a huge circle on the lawn in front of the Addison Gallery to distribute the individual diplomas, surrounded by family and friends. Headmaster and Mrs. Sizer then welcome them with a light buffet luncheon.

Mower Dangers

Besides cutting grass, rotary power mowers also cut fingers and toes with high speed blades that can propel objects through the air with flesh-piercing velocity. Hot exposed mufflers on power mowers can burn unwary users; gasoline used in power mowers can result in fires or explosions and electricity, which some mowers use, shocks — sometimes fatally.

WESTern Roundup

By Tricia Gannon

Tomorrow, June 6, the ninth graders of West Junior High will be having their Class Party. This year the theme of the social will be "The Orient." The social committee, headed by Mrs. Priscilla Lucy and Ms. Judy Iverson, has been busy organizing for this occasion. Students, such as Kelly Shannon, Lillian Wang, and Debby Care, have been working on invitations and scenery for this dinner-dance, during the past several weeks. A large percentage of ninth graders are expected to attend, therefore making the social its usual success.

The ninth grade baseball team, coached by Steve Tisbert, finished their season after eleven games. On Tuesday, May 27, the team played Central Catholic. They lost by a score of 5-4, however, Jeff Demers, Eddie McEvoy, and Tom Powers played especially well. The boys lost to E.J.H. on Thursday, May 29. Jeff Demers, Andy Emmert, and Tom Powers played especiall well. The boys lost to E.J.H. on Thursday, May 29. Jeff Demers, Andy Emmert, and Tom Popwers played very well in this 9-6 game.

The girls' softball team, coached by Dave Gangi and Bill Fleischmann, has also finished their regular season. On Tuesday, May 27, the team played Methuen. In this 22-12 loss, Wendy Prugh and Chris Powell played exceptionally well. The girls lost to Chelmsford-Parker on Wednesday, May 28, but came back Thursday, May 28, to beat arch-rival East Junior High. With a score of 6-3, Allison Hill, Chris Kubacki, and Linda Weiner led the team to victory. The team lost to Dracut Monday, June 2, by a score of 23-

19. Next Tuesday they will be competing against the faculty and later they will be starting a tournament.

AHS Notebook

By Renee Pruneau

Wednesday evening 478 seniors dressed in blue gowns and led by Marshalls Ben Bram and Renee Pruneau, participated in commencement exercises. While sitting in the middle of the Eugene V. Lovely field swatting mosquitos and listening to officials many thoughts raced through the graduates' minds.

While listening to the thoughts of the essayists, Pat Canavan and Suzanne Russell, the words of the guest speaker Bob Lobell and the class president Andy Kinsky, the class of 80 heard their own thoughts stumbling through their minds.

There is an excitement and exhilaration about graduation, but there also exists a small whispering voice in the back of one's mind, a knowing pain. This voice asks the graduate if he can really make it in the outside world. The voice brings fear to the graduate. He knows that he has outgrown his present world, yet is he ready for a new world? A world without shelter. A world with new friends, without parents to lean on. A world foreign to him. Yes, the fear and pain as well as the joy and happiness are all there.

Since, I was a part of the commencement exercises, I will no longer be reporting from Andover High, I do hope to write periodic articles about the life of the graduates. In the mean time I thank Mr. Finneran for the opportunity he has given me during the past five years, to inform Andover of its students' doings. I also thank those who read A.H.S. Notebook for your support. It has been a privilege writing for you.

P.A. Students Medalists In Olympiada

The U.S. is not going to the 1980 Moscow Olympics, but seven Phillips Academy students of Russian, including Sherene Aram and Matthew Lenoe of Andover, brought back seven medals from the 1980 Russian Olympiada at Buckingham, Browne and Nichols School. They wre competing against other Massachusetts and New Hampshire students in this national contest. The Olympiada is a typically Russian-style test of spoken Russian, conversation, translation and special area studies.

Gold medals were won by senior Eden Quainton of Washington, D.C. (who topped the participants with a near-perfect score), Dean Leonida of Hutchinson, Kansas, and Andre Obergon, a Brooks School student taking Russian at PA.

Andover's Sherene Aram and John Crespi of Downers Grove, Ill., won silver medals, while Scott Todd of Hanover, N.H., and Matthew Lenoe of Andover won bronze medals. Sherene was just one point away from a gold medal. PA's language program received national attention this winter through an extremely laudatory article in the 'Christian Science Monitor.' PA has been selected by the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages as one of 50 exemplary secondary school language programs that will be included in the Council's book 'Prescriptions for Success.'

Academy To Receive Three From China

The People's Republic of China is sending three students from the City of Harbin to Phillips Academy, Andover, next fall. The Harbin-Andover connection will be the first institutional exchange between the PRC and the USA at the high school student level.

Zhang Ren-Shi, Mao Jian-He and Gao Bing will come as seniors to the 202-year-old coeducational New England boarding academy. The three young men from China, like a third of their 1,200 Andover schoolmates, will receive scholarship help — theirs from a special fund for students from other countries.

"The PRC Education Ministry and the City of Harbin have selected the students not only for their academic accomplishments — all are strong in math and science and speak English — but also have entrusted them to carry on the cultural exchange between the two countries," said Alexander Tseng, of Stanford University, who arranged with the City of Harbin and the University of Harbin

Institute of Technology to send the students to Phillips Academy "for a strong preparation for their university work."

U.S. Ambassador to China Leonard Woodcock has taken a personal interest in the Harbin-Andover connection, instructing the U.S. Embassy in Peking to expedite the students' travel plans in every way. At the request of the University of Harbin, Andover Dean of Admissions Joshua L. Miner, who met with Ambassador Woodcock last week, will fly to Harbin this week to meet the students and their families and to join the 60th anniversary celebration of the Harbin University Institute of Technology. He will then tour Peking and other cities under the auspices of the Institute. A year ago 17 Chinese education officials touring U.S. schools came to Andover, attended classes in modern China history and mathematics and inspected the Academy's science and language labs.

Ren-Shi, Jian-He and Bing will feel right at home in cold New England winters, according to John Parker of the State Department's Hong Kong-Mongolia desk. Their home of Harbin lies in the Ha-Lung-Chain; this is not only its richest province in oil and rare minerals, but is China's northernmost province, in Chinese southern Siberia where the climate is that of Alaska. He notes that the northern Chinese around Harbin, who tend to be larger than the southern Chinese, are a hardy outdoor folk accustomed to temperatures of 25 degrees below zero.

Harbin officials express the hope that the exchange will be a lasting one and that "the students from PRC and the USA can learn from one another to build the world we have been dreaming of."

A May graduate who plans to attend Regis College, Weston, next year as a communications major, Doherty played the lead role of Fagin in the school production, "Oliver".

Andover resident Carolyn Govoni was named yearbook editor during the awards ceremony.

Seniors Are Spring Interns

Joseph Benson, Russell Savrann and Henry Woodworth, all seniors at Governor Dummer Academy, Byfield, are among 14 students participating in Senior Spring Term Projects. GDA seniors are given the option of planning their own individual projects according to their interests.

Benson is assisting the development office of GDA in a variety of projects and learning the workings of the office. He has compiled statistics and worked on the annual fund drive and phonathon, and with the computer. He is also co-captain of the GDA track team this spring. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Benson, he will attend the University of Maine in Orono next fall.

Savrann is spending his spring term in Washington D.C. working for the District Congressman James Shannon. He is assisting wherever needed, and in the process, being exposed to the various organs of the government. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Savrann, he plans to continue his interest in history and politics at Emory College in Georgia, next fall.

Woodworth is teaching third through ninth grade physical education classes at Pike School, Andover, five days a week from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., under the supervision of Athletic Director Bruce Crawford. He is also an attackman and two-year letterman on GDA's lacrosse team this spring. The son of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Woodworth, he plans to attend the University of Maine in Orono next year.

Ministry

usual for a rector to stay so long in one church. "But the whole relationship was so great, what would I leave for?"

He says he never aspired to the church hierarchy, to a multi-staff position with lots of handshaking and little opportunity to have the deep relationships with people that the "parish parson" has.

He likens the situation to a marriage. "When a relationship gets close, it becomes a marriage. If it works, there's no reason to change."

He adds that few clergymen are ever able to experience 21 years of growth in a community, to see kids they baptized come of legal age, to marry young people they once confirmed.

Admittedly "provincial," Mr. Pike graduated from Boston College and Eastern Theological Seminary, then went on to "missionary work out West, Down South and in the Far North."

He was curate at All Saint's Church in Worcester for three years, then rector in Branford, Conn., and Keene, N.H., for seven, before settling down halfway between his childhood home in Reading and his wife Louise's in Lowell. He was also an Air Force chaplain, serving the 91st Wing at Hanscom Field for many years before retiring as lieutenant colonel not long ago.

About 12 years ago the Pike's bought a broken down old farmhouse in Eliot, Maine, just 50 miles away, and that's where they'll move.

Mr. Pike, however, is quick to note that he's "retiring from the parochial ministry, not THE ministry. I'm not going to go off on a shelf."

As of this week he's editor of "Home Prayers," a 54-year-old ecumenical service that provides weekly worship for some 23,000 people in every state and around the world, who can't get to church on Sunday. While aimed at shut-ins, he says the "letter" also goes to a serviceman on a South Sea Island, for instance, or to a man in prison.

Mr. Pike will write the one-page service, consisting of an opening prayer, a Bible reading, a short sermon and another prayer, and it will be mailed to some 930 parishes that subscribe. The ministers of those churches then "personalize" the letter with their own signatures, to "express love and concern" on a more immediate level.

Mr. Pike has been sending Home Prayers since he came to Andover, about 35 a week, and he figures he's signed some 45,000 over the years.

Mr. Pike's influence has extended well beyond Christ Church into the Greater Lawrence Community, and he recalls that another highlight of his ministry also occurred at the Christian Formation Center, a couple of years ago.

He was asked to speak at the 150th anniversary of St. Augustine's Church, and he and Mrs. Pike were the only non-Roman Catholics there. He shared the speaker's platform with Cardinal Humberto Medeiros, and they both got standing ovations before and after their speeches.

But, Mr. Pike recalls proudly, "my ovation was longer, because they knew me."

"It all shows the growth of the ecumenical movement," he says. "When I started here, such a thing was not possible."

He has been described as "liberal," but Mr. Pike says he's conservative in many ways.

"I believe in evolution, not revolution," he says, "working within the system, working with people to try to influence their lives."

Changing the law doesn't change the human heart," he goes on. Revolution leaves pains and wounds; moving forward with everyone in tune provides healing and strength. That's the only way to really change the world.

"If the cause is right," he says, "it will be supported and it will succeed."

For six years back in the 60's, Mr. Pike was chairman of a race relations committee for the Diocese of Massachusetts, working with black leaders to improve communications and understanding. With some parishioners behind him, he went on to form the Andover Citizens for Equal Opportunity, and out of that came the 14-year-old Andover ABC program.

Mr. Pike was also one of the founders of GLEAM (Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry), and it was he who first advocated a full-time, paid director. When it got going strong, he "retreated and went into other things," such as the Human Development Program at Christ Church, that has also impacted the whole community.

Seven years ago, the rector says he began analyzing his own ministry, and realized that he was spending about 80 percent of his efforts on less than two percent of the people at any given time: people in some problem area of life, some "passage," such as death, sickness, premarriage, alcoholism, unemployment.

The other two percent were out there with everything supposedly going all right, he says, "but that wasn't really true. Most of them were potentially in a crisis area as well."

He decided to take some "preventive" action, and trained in Transactional Analysis (T.A.). "I felt it was a secular

Installed Into Society

William F. Walsh, Jr., a 1977 graduate of Andover High School, is installed into skull and swords, a senior honor society at Norwich University, Northfield, Vt. Membership in the society is one of the highest honors to which a Norwich cadet may aspire. The members are selected because of their loyalty, integrity, sense of honor, and dedication to the school. Walsh is a junior majoring in business administration. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walsh, 109 High St.

Montessori Elects Directors

The annual business meeting of the Andover School of Montessori, Inc. was held recently. Four members of the parent group were elected to the board of directors to succeed retiring directors, Joan Krasnoo, Margaret Galaburda and Londa Brammer, all of Andover, and Mark Leonard of Lawrence. Elected to a two-year term were Janice Goldstein and Philip Coppola of Andover and Gerald Peck of West Boxford. Lucie Lemaitre of Andover was elected to serve a one-year term.

These new directors join Bruce deBeer of Andover, Maryclare Collings of North Reading and Michael Kasabuski of North Andover on the seven-member board whose decisions guide the six-year-old school.

Following the election, the new board held an organizational meeting and elected officers for the 1980-81 school year. Unanimously elected were: Michael Kasabuski, chairman of the board;

Maryclare Collings, president; Lucie Lemaitre, clerk; and Bruce deBeer, treasurer.

The Andover School of Montessori, Inc. is a non-profit school offering a traditional three-year Montessori program to area children between 3 and 6 years of age. For information call Diane R. Derby or Linda Brammer of Andover.

Summer Program Planned

The Ballardvale Preschool of 23 Clark Road, Andover will once again be sponsoring a summer program for Andover residents. The preschool is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Karen Sullivan with a staff of qualified teachers and a teacher — child ratio of 1-4. It operates daily from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

To attend, a child must be four, five or six years old by Sept. 1, 1980. The purpose of the program is to enrich each child through a variety of social activities, crafts, games, music, gym, and special events. Most activities are held outdoors on the large playground which is equipped with unique play apparatus. Emphasis is placed on individual needs and interests.

The program is held during the month of August, Monday through Friday. An outline of the daily schedule is available upon request.

Horse Power

Old Order Amish have been farming with horses in this country for more than 200 years. The Amish have kept draft horses available while mechanization of farming developed, Massachusetts Audubon tells us. Horses are an efficient power source: the feed bill is paid back with fertilizer; a mare can produce a potential "tractor" each year.

Volunteers

The New England Aquarium has summer openings for volunteers in the education department. Or, if you prefer, some positions are open in the gift shop.

An orientation program for people interested in learning more about volunteer opportunities at the Aquarium begins at 9:30 a.m. til 12 noon on Tuesday, July 8, and Saturday, July 12. There is a two day course for people who choose to work in the education department on Wednesday, July 9, and Thursday, July 10 from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

If you are interested in learning more about volunteering at the Aquarium, call for an interview.

'Rainbows' Baccalaureate Theme

For the first time in many years, a Baccalaureate Service for Andover High School seniors was held Sunday, June 1 at 8 p.m. at South Church. Sponsored by the Andover Clergy Association, and led by a student committee, the candlelight service with the theme of "Rainbows" was a meaningful and joyous occasion for the seniors and their families and friends.

A processional of participants opened the service to the strains of "The Rainbow Connection" sung by Andover High School choir members. Faith Barnard of West Parish Church welcomed the congregation and explained the theme. Rev. David Melvin of South Church, program chairman, led in a prayer of invocation followed by Doug Taylor of South Church reading selections from the Story of Noah in Genesis and offering some contemporary parallels and reflections. The choir then sang "Bridge Over Troubled Waters" accompanied by Keith Gould on the piano. In keeping with the Rainbow Theme, Nancy Balin of Temple Emmanuel, Andover, lit a purple candle and read the modern parable "Footsteps." Bob King, Andover High School faculty member, delighted the congregation as he spoke concerning the color blue, and some paradoxes of life. Introduced by Karen Landy of Temple Emmanuel, Andover, Laurie Skinder of St. Robert's, Brenda Mesler of South Church and Linda Saalfrank of St. Augustine's Church performed the song "Green Cathedrals." The color yellow was spoken to by Mrs. Norma Gammon, Andover selectwoman, and she encouraged the students to be involved in their communities. The orange candle, lit by Linda Saalfrank, St. Augustine's, preceded her offering of "Children" by Kahlil Gibran. Rev. Richard O'Leary of St. Augustine's, spoke of the importance of human emotion, often characterized by the color red. The final candle, the white light of hope, was lit by Melissa Baucher.

Andover Girl Shares Bat Mitzvah

Julie Witover

Inna Dubianskaya is a 13-year-old girl living in Moscow, U.S.S.R. with her mother. When in December 1976, her mother applied for an exit visa so that they could leave Russia, she lost her job as a history teacher. They were forced to go and live with Inna's aged, sick grandparents. Inna's mother is a member of the Moscow Women's Group who are active in trying to obtain exit visas.

Julie Witover is a 13-year-old girl living in Andover with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Witover and her brother Gary. She is in the seventh grade at West Junior High School and is receiving her religious education at Temple Emanuel in Andover where her family is affiliated. Julie will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday morning, June 14th, marking the attainment of her religious majority and her assumption of responsibilities as a member of the Jewish community. She decided to remember Inna Dubianskaya in the midst of her own celebration of coming of age in the Jewish tradition. On Saturday morning when Julie is called to the Torah by Rabbi Harry Roth of Temple Emanuel, she will be chanting the blessings for Inna as well as for herself, and will, in a symbolic way, be sharing this ceremony with the Russian girl who must be silent. She will speak about her own freedom to worship as she chooses and will tell of Inna, who, because she is denied religious freedom, cannot participate in such a ceremony.

The Russian Jews are referred to as 'Jews of Silence' because the attempt of the Russian government is to silence their Judaism. The inclusion of Inna Dubianskaya in the Bat Mitzvah ceremony is intended as a protest of the fact that, according to the laws of the Soviet Union, youngsters can receive no religious training. By the ceremony in which Julie Witover will participate, an attempt is being made to establish a bond between one of our children, who is free to observe her religion openly, and a Russian girl of the same age who is denied that right. Julie and her family have begun correspondence with Inna and look forward to hearing from her.

The idea of this ceremony came from

Action for Soviet Jewry, a group based in Waltham, that advocates the cause of 'refuseniks,' Jews living in the Soviet Union, who are harassed because they want to leave their country. Although similar ceremonies have taken place in other communities, this will be the first of its kind at Temple Emanuel in Andover.

Former Pastor Drowning Victim

Rev. Edward G. Robinson

Rev. Edward G. Robinson, OSA, former pastor of St. Augustine's parish, Andover, was a drowning victim at Hampton Beach last week.

Fr. Robinson, who was assigned to St. Augustine's parish, Tower Hill, Lawrence since leaving Andover, had been at the beach for a few days. His body was found Tuesday, May 27 and identified Friday. Rockingham County Medical Examiner Dennis Carlson ruled that death was caused by drowning.

A Concelebrated Mass was offered Monday at 8 p.m. at Merrimack College Chapel.

"The news of his death had a very profound effect on everybody at the 4 o'clock Mass Saturday afternoon when Father (Joseph) Keffer made the announcement," said James Doherty, member of the parish council at St. Augustine's Andover.

"He was one of the most highly regarded Augustinians to come to the Lawrence area in the last 50 years. He was top drawer all the way," continued Doherty.

Father Keffer, who was Father Robinson's replacement at the Andover parish, said last night that his associate, "was very well loved especially by the elderly and children. His heart went out to all,"

Andover pediatrician Dr. William O'Reilly, a friend and parishioner of Father Robinson, said the former pastor was, "a priest of the people. A very sincere gentle man whose main concern was the welfare of his flock. Nobody ever knew how much he did for people...the widow who needed a hand or the family who was befriended by him".

Father Robinson, 58, was born in Albany, N.Y., and later attended Villanova and Catholic universities. He was ordained on June 11, 1949 and spent 17 years in Japan as a missionary. He was one of three Augustinians in Nagasaki after World War II and watched the rebuilding of Japan. He came to Andover in 1975.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Christopher (Margaret) Sharer of Albany; nephews, Patrick, Edward, Kevin and Mark Sharer, all of Albany; a niece, Christine Sharer of Albany; and an aunt, Mrs. Rose Duffy of Albany.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Augustian Missionaries, care of St. Augustine's Church, 124 Ames St., Lawrence, or to the charity of one's choice.

An Entertaining Idea

The television rerun season is upon us again and if you were bored the first time around and think there is little to look forward to on the tube, Memorial Hall Library's audio-visual librarian suggests you check out an 8mm projector and several of the Library's circulating 8mm and super 8mm films. There are several hundred films to choose from and the selection ranges from the early subtitled black-and-white comedy classics of Chaplin, Keaton and Laurel and Hardy, to Walt Disney cartoons and classic horror films. Anyone over 18 years of age with an Andover card can check out a projector, which can be reserved ahead of time by calling the reference desk. Up to five films may be borrowed from our collection with no prior reservation. So plan an old-fashioned, quiet evening sometime this summer with a silent film festival. The Great

Split Of 1855

At one time Andover, North Andover and South Lawrence comprised the town of Andover. Thanks to the North Andover Historical Society, Memorial Hall Library is currently displaying "The Great Split of 1855," an exhibit depicting the factors leading up to the separation of Andover and North Andover 125 years ago. "Although the original settlements were in the north parish, by 1855 the south parish had more people and money and had appropriated the name Andover. In return for giving up the name and town records, North Andover received from its wealthy neighbor the sum of $6,000."

Veterans Bus Drivers Are Dropped

Andover will be losing some longtime school bus drivers next year— and paying more to boot— because of some technicalities in route bidding procedures.

Transportation Assistant Sam Arcidy told the school committee Tuesday night that when bids for 17 bus routes were opened recently, it was called to his attention that some of them didn't fit the letter of the bid specifications. He said the town counsel then recommended that those bids be thrown out.

Otherwise, Arcidy said, they would be causing problems among the drivers, pitting one against another, and leaving the department open for possible suit.

Arcidy said that one of his best drivers was among the four disqualified and Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert added that "some people who have given valuable service for a number of years are going to get zonked on a technicality."

One of those, Don Craig, a 17-year veteran driver for the system, didn't include a bid for extra mileage as required in the bid specs. "I just forgot," he told the committee Tuesday.

Rino Tacconi also didn't bid extra mileage, while Ray Desjardin submitted a personal check with his bids instead of a bank or certified check as required. Frank Peterof submitted no check.

Successful low bidders are, William Piercy, six buses at $68 a day each plus $.75 a mile for extra mileage; George Sweeney, two buses, $69.75 a day each and $.85 for extra mileage; Marcia Pierce, one bus $70.85 and $.90 extra mileage; Charles Vartabedian, one bus, $72.50 and $1. extra mileage; Al Vartabedian, two buses, $74. and $.95 extra mileage; Paul Mooradian, one bus, $78.74 and $1.25 extra mileage; William Watson, one bus, $80 and $.80 extra mileage; Sarkis Sarkisian, one bus, $80.50 and $.95 extra mileage; and Jeff Watson, one bus, $90. and $.80 extra mileage.

Four kindergarten routes were awarded to Piercy, (two) $22.84 each per day; Sweeney, one bus, $30, and W. Watson, one bus, $32.51.

The two late bus routes went to Piercy, at $24.45 each.

One regular route remains to be filled, and will be put out to bid again.

Asked if the bidding has always been this strict, Arcidy said "that there may have been times when circumstances were such that we weren't as critical or when we haven't been as picky."

Seifert added that with the addition of a new town purchasing agent, there has been a "tightening up" in all bids.

"Is it the way we've always done it? I doubt it," he said. But he added that "we don't want to leave ourselves open that we favored someone over someone else."

There are some individuals that are going to get hurt by this and I feel very, very bad about it."

Three of those rejected individuals would have been among the low bidders: Desjardin with bids of $68. and $.75 extra mileage for one bus and $70 and a $.75 extra mileage for another; Tacconi, with a bid of $73.25 for one bus and Craig, $73.60.

Peterof's bid was $82.03 with $1.25 extra mileage.

School Committeeman Donald Robb asked if they could reject some bids as "too high," and Business Manager Ed Maguire said no, because the bid specifications had not set a ceiling on acceptable bids.

He said they could only throw out the whole batch if they felt the total tab was too high. That, they decided, might cause a "war" among the drivers, because their first bids were now public. They had submitted 2 bids for 17 routes.

California Company Acquires Local Firm

Beckman Instruments, Inc. has acquired SpectraMetrics, Inc., 204 Andover St., Andover, manufacturer of plasma emission spectrometers, for 545,000 Beckman common shares.

The transaction, approved today by SpectraMetrics' shareholders, will be treated as a pooling of interests. Under its terms, SpectraMetrics shareholders will receive 0.17235 shares of Beckman common for each SpectraMetrics share held. On April 11, 1980, there were approximately 3.1 million SpectraMetrics shares outstanding.

SpectraMetrics will remain in Andover and operate as a wholly-owned Beckman subsidiary. Richard D. Condon, SpectraMetrics president, will be manager of the new Beckman subsidiary.

Plasma emission spectrometers identify and precisely measure trace concentrations of chemical elements in applications ranging from water pollution analysis to industrial product development and quality control. The instruments are used widely in environmental, industrial and scientific laboratories.

"SpectraMetrics has developed a comprehensive line of plasma emission spectrometers," said Dr. William F. Ballhaus, president of Beckman. "They will complement Beckman's established strengths in analytical instrumentation."

In the fiscal year ended last June 30, SpectraMetrics' sales were $4,458,345 and net earnings were $631,908, or 23 cents per share.

Gravel Pit Sections To Be Denied

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Following a two-hour, closed-door session with the selectmen Monday night, legal counsel to the selectmen said the board must deny the application for a special gravel removal permit for four sections of the Andover Country Club development.

The selectmen may legally consider issuing a gravel removal permit only for section one of the seven-section, 160-acre subdivision, special counsel Tom Arnold told the selectmen.

Developer Andover-Cormier, Inc., has applied for a permit for sections two through five as well. But the selectmen may not consider those sections at this time because they may fall under the town's gravel removal bylaw, said Arnold.

The new bylaw, approved by town meeting on April 15, prohibits gravel removal from all but industrial zones without a zoning variance. Under a legal move called "grandfathering," the bylaw may not apply to remaining sections of the country club development because Cormier submitted preliminary subdivision plans to the Planning Board prior to April 15.

However, Cormier must also submit definitive subdivision plans within seven months of preliminary plans; those plans have not yet been submitted, with the deadline more than four months away.

Definitive Plans for section one were approved by the planning board in August 1979, said Arnold. The developer began clearing the site last fall, prompting complaints from neighboring residents that the work is creating a dust and noise problem in the area.

The proposed development is located off Canterbury Street, Chandler Circle, Beacon Street, and Lowell Street.

Until definitive plans for sections two through five are submitted, completing the requirements for grandfathering, it would be "premature" for the selectmen to act on those sections of the gravel removal permit application, advised Arnold.

"I suggest you deny the application for those sections without prejudice," Arnold told the selectmen, "until the definitive plans are submitted to and approved by the planning board."

Selectman Chairman James Abramson pointed out that the sections may be grandfathered at a later date. But we have no other option at this time than to deny the permit without prejudice," he said.

The selectmen took no action on the permit during Monday night's conference session, but may vote on the permit next Monday, said Abramson. Under a town bylaw, a four-fifths vote of the selectmen is required for the special permit to be issued, rather than the usual two-thirds vote.

The proposed gravel removal permit drafted by the town manager last week, which would place 36 restrictions on the developer, will still be considered, but will be amended to concern only section one, said Abramson.

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark said he planned to incorporate changed into the draft permit at the suggestion of special counsel and town administrative staffers.

As an added control over the developer, for instance, the permit should require Andover-Cormier to pay the salary of a temporary town employee who would oversee work on the construction site at all times, said Clark.

"Is that such a whale of an idea?" asked Selectman Edward Harris. "If he (the developer) is paying for this person, what kind of supervision would we be getting? Isn't that a conflict of interest?"

The on-site inspector would be "on the applicant's payroll, but would be picked and hired by the town's building inspector, and would report to the building inspector," replied Arnold, who suggested the idea to Clark. "Having somebody on-site, on the spot, is the best way to insure that your orders are being complied with."

Clark also said the performance bond of $250,000 included in the original draft was "excessive" and would be reduced, "probably to somewhere between $75,000 and $100,000." The department of public works will estimate a realistic figure, he said.

At the same time, Clark said, that $250,000 has been deemed inadequate as the amount of insurance to protect abutters, to be carried by the developer, as stipulated in the original draft that would be increased and carried as long as three years beyond the expiration of the gravel

Insurance Pool Is Supported

The selectmen will send a letter to the state legislature in support of pending legislation (S-2111) which would allow municipalities to form a pool for obtaining workmen's compensation and general insurance, at a significant savings to the town.

By pooling their insurance business, the participating municipalities could reduce their premiums by 10 to 15 percent, Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark told the selectmen Monday night. The town has currently appropriated $387,500 for insurance premiums, Clark said.

The proposed insurance pool is similar to the pool in which the town buys road salt with other towns, Clark said.

As part of a pool, the town might have to deal with an insurance agent outside of Andover, a possible disadvantage of the plan, Clark said.

"If we have a problem with our insurance now, I call a local (agent's) office," said Clark. "In the future, I might be calling Danvers, or some other town 20 miles away. The pool would not be worth the savings if we could not be sure of receiving a good response from the agent, and timely processing."

Clark said the legislation would give the town an additional insurance alternative to consider. "It would be good to have the option, even if we never use it," agreed Selectman Chairman James Abramson. "We may not want to use it at all."

Swimming For Health Results In Medals

By Sue Aucella Deacon

It's not at all unusual, in these fitness-minded times, for those approaching middle age to take up some form of exercise to help improve their health. But few earn medals for their efforts, the way 48-year-old Don Mulvey of 104 High Plain Road has in recent weeks.

Last month, during a national championship swim meet for masters (men and women over age 25), Mulvey and three teammates won first place in the medley relay race.

During that meet, Mulvey also took fourth place in a freestyle relay, a 200-yard event, and a 100-yard event.

On his way to the national championship meet, earlier this spring, Mulvey won two backstroke events at the New England Championship meet at Harvard University, and three backstroke events at the Eastern Shore Championship in New Jersey, along with a gold medal in the freestyle relay, and fourth place in a 50-yard freestyle.

Mulvey, employed with New England Life Insurance Co., Boston, modestly acknowledges that he has the best backstroke time in the New England Masters Swim Club, which he joined just last fall through the Andover-North Andover YMCA.

A slim, soft-spoken man, Mulvey took up swimming a year ago because he had been "gaining a little weight, and my blood pressure was high. I was beginning to think I was aging a little," he says. Mulvey's physician advised him that he was at a crossroads, he explains: "Either I could get more out of shape, or I could start taking better care of myself with diet and exercise." He knew he'd rather exercise than diet, Mulvey says, but jogging "never appealed to me much."

Swimming, on the other hand, seemed a natural choice. Although he hadn't done much "except get wet" since his college days, Mulvey was a competitive swimmer at Phillips Academy (class of 1950) and Harvard (1954) who had set more than one pool record.

So he began swimming at the Cedardale Tennis and Health Club, Haverhill, and by the end of last summer Mulvey had dropped about 15 pounds, returned his blood pressure to "a responsible range, and improved my general health a lot."

During the fall, Mulvey continued to swim a mile every day at the Y, where he learned about masters' swimming. "Masters' swimming is sanctioned by the AAU (Amateur Athletic Union) he explains. "It's not geared toward competition — the idea is to get exercise, swim against yourself and set your own standards. It's mostly for fun."

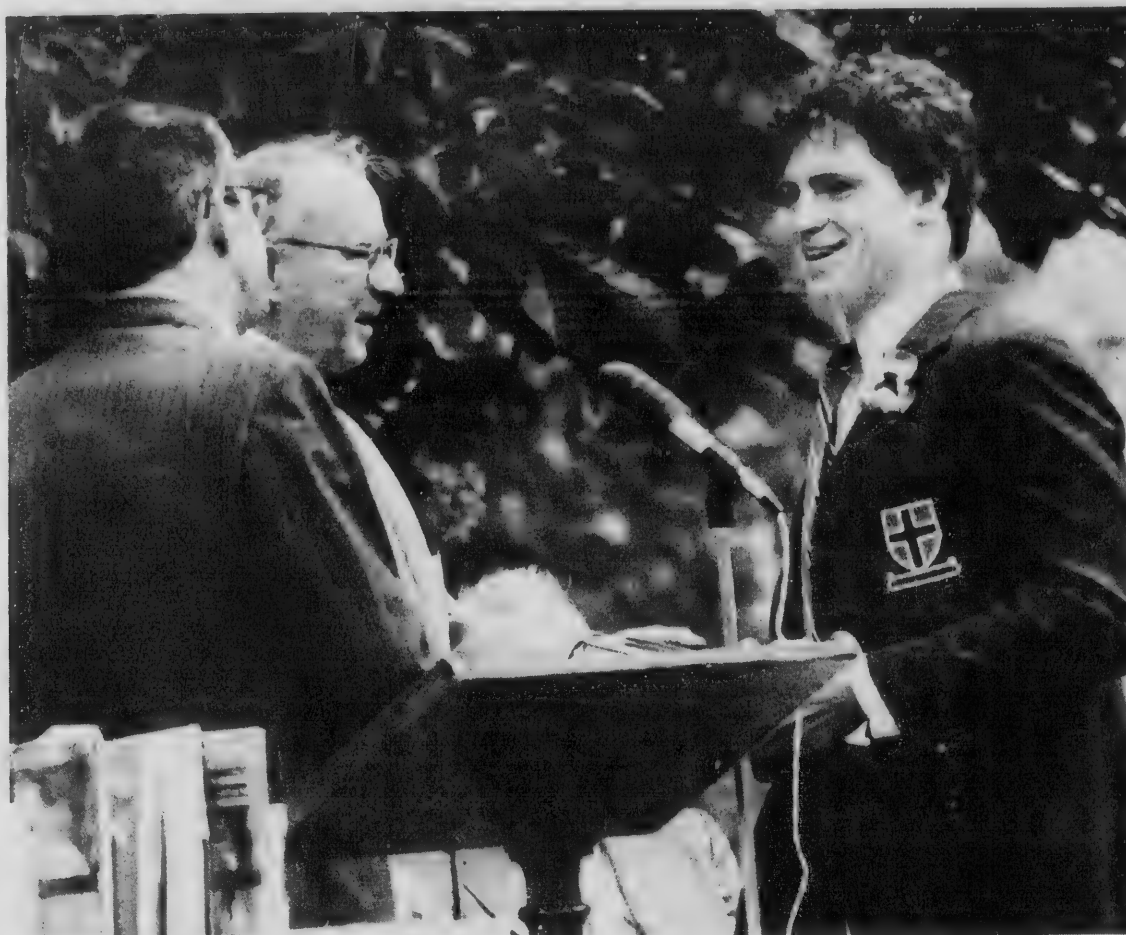

However, the New England Masters Swim Club does hold frequent swim meets. After his first meet, Mulvey joined a group of "early bird" swimmers who train at the Y at 6:30 every morning.

Mulvey was not satisfied with the times he swam during his early meets, which included meets in Exeter, N.H., at Harvard,

On Stowe And Ballardvale

A few comments this week about the Stowe school and the people of Ballardvale.

First, of course, the Stowe school business, which suddenly appears to be a valuable building to those interested in historical items throughout the state.

Up until recently this particular building, scheduled for demolition as part of town's school building program, has been ignored by anyone in authority at the state level.

As part of the overall planning process by the school building committee, it was included in all materials submitted to the state for approval.

Somewhere along the line, the plans passed through the Massachusetts Historical Commission, which failed to comment on the status of the Stowe building one way or another.

Now, after town meeting approval of the plans and the providing of funds for the building program, the state's historians have found that Stowe is a significantly historical structure.

Fortunately, for the town, this sudden interest will not deter the continued planning of the building program, but it does place a hindrance.

The Stowe, which is virtually valueless as a continued municipal structure, must remain for a period of time, in order that studies can either confirm or reject its historical significance.

As for its possible reuse, we fail to see any justification.

It is an old structure, badly in need of repair, high ceilings make it an energy waster, and its proximity to a junior high school, once Doherty is converted, would make it less than appealing as a housing unit.

What the state has done by insisting on its remaining as is until it can be studied, is provide some inconvenience. In the end, once it is determined that no applicable reuse can be found, it will be torn down anyway.

Meanwhile, architects, contractors and planners will have to work around the building in carrying out the wishes of the town in providing a new junior high building on the site.

Ballardvale

Ballardvale residents, insistent on continued library service, this week initiated bus service on Monday nights to Memorial Hall library for people in the area.

Their own branch library has been closed now for several weeks due to the structural condition of the Ballardvale Community Center. An effort to reopen a reading room, or small branch library there has been stalled until some renovations can be accomplished — by the people of the Vale.

So, the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society has made arrangements to bus the Vale residents, many of them youngsters involved in summer reading programs "up town" Monday nights.

This is evidence of the spirit of the Ballardvale people who are determined to keep their village a significant and distinct part of Andover.

Shawsheen residents accomplished a similar task and will have dedication ceremonies noting the area's designation as an historic district on June 14.

We envision the people of Ballardvale working with the town to retain and note their own niche in the Andover community, and such effort as has been initiated this past week is significant evidence.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — June 1905

Daniel Haggerty has gone to work for William M. Wood as a coachman.

William Watson purchased the Nolan property on Highland road which was sold at public auction last Saturday afternoon. The purchase price was $2,500.

Fraulein Schiefferdecker is going to be in Andover until the first of August or later and would like to form a class in German or receive private pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Buchan, who were married in Ashland, N.H., on Sunday, have been spending their honeymoon with the former's father, in West Parish.

At the meeting of the Grange to be held next Tuesday, the subject for discussion will be, "To what extent does the success of a farmer depend on his wife, and how much of his business should she know?"

50 Years Ago — June 1930

Miss Mary Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Collins of Summer Street, was appointed to the office of town accountant at a special meeting of the Board of Selectmen Tuesday afternoon.

In answer to the recent petition of the parents in Ballardvale the school committee voted at its monthly meeting Tuesday night to open a seventh grade in the Bradlee school, Ballardvale, in September provided there is a large enough class.

The fire department was called to Pomp's pond Wednesday evening to extinguish a fire which broke out again in the ice houses which were destroyed about a month ago. The call was received at 7:30 and firemen remained on the scene for two hours.

Two Lawrence youths were taken into custody by the Andover police Wednesday morning and are alleged to have stolen a quantity of ice cream from the basement of the Stowe junior high school.

A number of local farmers who were prepared for an early crop of farm products were somewhat handicapped Saturday night and Sunday morning, when a frost destroyed hundreds of tomato plants and nipped other products.

25 Years Ago — June 1955

Senior athlete Allan Wadman was the proud recipient of the outstanding senior athlete award last night at the Boosters Club annual All-Sports banquet.

Robert S. Leatahars of Newton has received permission to construct five homes on Rattlesnake Hill Road, a subdivision of which was recorded in 1921 but which does not now meet Zone B zoning requirements as established by the town. However, the Planning Board has said it has no jurisdiction over the development now because of a state law loophole.

Is Clark brook in Ballardvale pure or polluted? Mrs. Wendell R. Hopkins, 12 Chester St., charges that the brook, either when backed up because the overflow is "clogged with debris" or "when it cannot flow" in the dry summer days, "is then one large, uncovered cesspool."

The gym of the Shawsheen school was the scene of a circus put on Pack 71 of the Shawsheen cub scouts. The boys put on the outstanding show with realistic costumes representing the various characters found under the big top.

Anne LeFebvre, junior, was chosen Queen of the Punchard high school prom last Friday night and Regina Burrows, Francoise Louis, Marcia Tangney, Lorraine Nadeau, Betty Lou Simeone and Valerie Shaw, all seniors, were the Queen's attendants.

10 Years Ago — June 1970

East Junior High's new principal will be Dr. Richard F. McGrail, a Boston College faculty member with ten years experience in junior high schools as teacher, department head, assistant principals and principal.

It would appear now that there will be no special town meeting this month and that contemplated business will be put off to the scheduled October town meeting.

Near tragedy was averted by coincidence Sunday when a section of the roof of the Musgrove building in Elm square collapsed shortly before 1 p.m. Fortunately no one was in the third floor area where the cave-in took place. Rehearsals for a dance recital scheduled for Sunday had been postponed.

Repairs are being made to a section of Elm Street from Washington Avenue to Wilson's Corner in North Andover. Workmen from the state department of public works have been in the area for the past week, making repairs to potholes and curbing along the state portion of the street.

The Andover High track team, after gaining all honors available in the state, will compete in the New England Schoolboy Track meet Saturday at the Eugene V. Lovely stadium.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Was the Hostage Rescue Canceled
Because Kremlin Threatened U.S.?By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- The evidence keeps mounting that President Jimmy Carter called off the Iranian hostage rescue mission because of threats made by the Russians over the Moscow-Washington hot line.

Our intelligence sources have confirmed that the hotline definitely was in use during the rescue attempt. In fact, according to insiders, British intelligence agents monitored the conversations between the White House and the Kremlin. However, the English agents will not tell their CIA counterparts what they heard because they don't want to admit to the United States that they tapped the hotline.

The British also feel that if President Carter wanted his intelligence analysts to know what was said on the hotline, he would tell them.

Defense Secretary Harold Brown has denied that the Russians threatened Carter, but at least one Senate committee is expected to demand the full facts in an upcoming secret session.

The Kremlin, meanwhile, is preparing to counter the effect of any American naval blockade of Iran with a massive truck convoy. Our intelligence sources report that a force of 3,000 supply trucks has been assembled in Soviet towns near the Iranian border, on both sides of the Caspian Sea.

In fact, so many trucks have been sent to the Iranian border that Soviet commerce along the borders with Czechoslovakia and Hungary has been disrupted. Some of the towns have even experienced food shortages.

Even though the truck-convoy preparations have meant that some Russian citizens are going hungry, Kremlin leaders have vowed to meet their export commitments. Beef, which is in short supply in the Soviet Union, has been shipped to France in boxes labeled "pickles." The phony labels are designed to conceal the beef exports from Russian workers.

PRISONER BENEFITS: It is no secret that the Social Security system has been milked dry to pay all the benefits that Congress keeps adding. But there is something that the Social Security Administration would prefer to keep secret: It pays out millions of dollars each year in disability and survivor benefits to convicts.

A spokesman admitted that the agency does not keep tabs on how many convicts collect benefits. But our reporter Tom Toch talked to investigators for Rep. G. William Whitehurst, R-Va., who have conducted surveys in five typical prisons. They estimate that 30,000 convicts around the country are raking in $60 million a year in disability benefits alone.

An inmate at the Indiana State Reformatory, for example, was convicted of murdering his 5-year-old stepdaughter and sentenced to life imprisonment. In 1968, he applied for Social Security disability benefits on the grounds that his record rendered him unfit for society and he was therefore unable to work. He has received some $12,000 in the past 12 years.

In Michigan, a 16-year-old youth was convicted in 1973 for killing his parents. Not long afterward, in prison, he began collecting $300 a month in survivor benefits from the Social Security Administration because he was an orphan.

CONGRESSIONAL BENEFITS: It cost the taxpayers more than $239 million to pay the expenses of our elected representatives on Capitol Hill last year. Here are some examples of how they spent the money:

-- Rep. Don Young, R-Alaska, put a $41 laundry bill on his official office tab; he also charged the taxpayers for $38 worth of tips to bellmen.

-- Rep. Jack Kemp, R-N.Y. -- who is considered a possible running mate for Ronald Reagan, charged the public nearly $6,000 for a newsletter that extolled the virtues of his economic theories.

-- Rep. Nicholas Mavroules, D-Mass., asked the taxpayers to foot the bill for $84 worth of spring water.

FREEZE ON BENEFITS: It's not just the Iranians who have suffered from the freeze on that country's assets here in the United States. The freeze order prohibits any government-to-government exchange of money. That means that some 50 Americans living in Iran who are eligible for Social Security payments cannot get their monthly checks. The money is being held for them by the Treasury Department.

ANGRY ARTIST: A portrait of the retired Senate dean, James O. Eastland, D-Miss., hangs in the hearing room of the Senate Judiciary Committee. But it may become the focus of a rharb between the portrait's artist and the Congress. The painting was hung two years ago. But so far, artist Charles Mount says he hasn't been paid. And unless the legislators come up with $13,000, he says, he may take a knife to the canvas.

WATCH ON WASTE: Halfway through the construction of 20 new destroyers, Navy planners decided there were serious problems with the ships' galleys -- the salad bars came after the hot foods. The Navy brass didn't want to confuse the patrons about the fare. Therefore, all the ships were changed so the sailors could serve themselves salad first. Cost to the taxpayers: $1.7 million.

Track Teams Make Strong Showing

The past week saw the Andover High boy's and girl's track teams make strong showings in the Merrimack Valley League individual championships held in Wilmington for the boys and Chelmsford for the girls.

Highlighting the league meet of the girls was a victory in the mile by Mary Driscoll, a new school record of 5'3" in the high jump by Sue Messersmith and an outstanding 16'5" long jump by Polly Whitley.

For the boys, Rick Jennings' victory in the two mile and the taking of four of six places in the triple jump by John Merola, Mike Starr, Jeff Sarkisian, and Dave Deloury featured the Andover performance.

In the State Class A Boy's Championships held in Andover on Saturday, John Merola set a season's high performance in the triple jump with a leap of 42'6". Andover's great sprint trio of Melvin Berger, Noel Pizarro and Bob Flaherty, all out of action for the past month with leg injuries, were held out of the meet and as a result will not be qualified for any further state and New England competition.

On Saturday, June 7 the Mass. State All-Class Championships will be held for both boys and girls at Eugene V. Lovely Field. Field events begin at 10 a.m. and running events at 11.

Bike Race Saturday

The fifth annual Department of Community Services Bike Race will get underway on Saturday, June 7 beginning at 10 a.m.

The ten-mile race will start at the Harold Rafton Reservation on High Plain Road in Andover. The route consists of two five mile loops that run from High Plain Road to Forest Hill Drive, to Chandler Road, to Greenwood Road, and back to the starting line on High Plain Road.

Competition will take place in six categories: 1) First Male Finisher; 2) First Female Finisher; 3) First 3-speed (or less) Finisher; 4) First 14 years and Under Finisher. Trophies and medals will be awarded to the winners and runner-ups in each category, while ribbons will be given to third and fourth place finishers.

Racers may register for the competition at the DCS office or at the starting line on the day of the race. Registration forms and race route maps are available at Andover junior and senior high schools.

The Sport Shop, the Andover Hockey Shop, and of course the Department of Community Services office on Bartlett Street. A minimum of 25 racers must be pre-registered in order for this event to take place. In case of inclement weather, the race will be held on Sunday, June 8. For additional information, contact the Community Services office.

Cards Assured Of Tie

By Dan Grams

With the first half of the 1980 Little League season drawing to an end, the Cardinals assured themselves of at least a first place tie with the Pirates. In order for a first place tie, the Pirates must make up and win a game which is presently on tap for this coming week.

1st Half Standings

| | W-L |
|-----------------|-----|
| Cardinals | 7-2 |
| Pirates | 6-2 |
| Cubs | 5-4 |
| Braves | 4-5 |
| Dodgers | 3-4 |
| Mets | 3-6 |
| Giants | 2-6 |

The Pirates, Giants and Dodgers have games to make up, before the first half of the season is completed.

Pirates 7, Mets 0

Twelve-year-old Robbie DiTroia registered the first Little League no-hitter of the season by blanking the Mets 7-0. Rob struck out 9 batters in his 6 inning gem.

Steve Gemmell was the big stick at the plate, going a perfect 3 for 3 on the day, including 2 doubles. John Nuzzo came up with the game winning hit, driving in the first run of the game with an RBI single. DiTroia also chipped in offensively with two safeties.

George Liss and Chris Bartley handled the pitching for the Mets, giving up 7 runs on 8 hits, while striking out 7. Peter Trede and Jack Sweeney made nice plays in the field for the Mets.

Pirates 9, Cubs 7

The Pirates continued their winning ways, with a 9-7 triumph over the Cubs. Mike Morris took the win, with Peter Sandler coming on in the fourth, to finish up.

Ray Cunningham's bases clearing double, and Sandler's 2 RBI's and 2 runs scored performance, accounted for 7 of the Pirates 9 runs. John Nuzzo also had 2 timely hits for the victors.

Rob Nelson was the thorn in the Pirates side all night. Nelson keyed Cub rallies in the 4th and 6th innings with big hits, while playing a superb defensive game to keep the Cubs within reach. Rob Hendry and Scott Grant split the mound chores for the Cubs in a losing effort. Nelson and Hendry both sparked the Cub attack with 2 hits, while Eric Goodman and Patrick Fleming each chipped in with singles.

Scott Grant made the defensive play of the game, with some good heads-up baseball. Grant, backing up a base on an overthrow, cut down a runner trying to further his position on the base paths.

Mets 9, Dodgers 4

A strong defensive game and the pitching of Chris Bartley, with relief help from George Liss, led the Mets past the Dodgers 9-4.

Bartley threw 4 strong innings, striking out 3, before giving way to Liss. Both pitchers gave up 3 hits.

A big 2nd inning which featured hits by Bartley, Mike Powers, Liss, and Dan Hegarty, sandwiched around a walk to Steve Hanley paved the way.

Mike Powers turned in a fine game for the Mets, collecting 2 hits, and registering 5 assists in the field. Scott Wilkins, Jack Sweeney, and Jim Keating had the other Met hits, while Alan Sillars, Luke Wennik, and Keating made nice catches in the outfield.

Peter Zompa kept the game from being a rout, by turning in a sound relief job. Bob Padva's single sparked a late Dodger comeback, in a losing effort for the Dodgers.

Cubs 7, Dodgers 2

Rob Nelson led the Cubs to an impressive 7-2 victory over the Dodgers. Nelson pitched one of the strongest games of the season by striking out a single hame high 11, to record his 3rd victory of the season.

Eric Goodman and Rob Hendry were the offensive stars for the Cubs with 2 hits apiece. Goodman drove in 2 runs in the 5th with a single threw the box to seal the victory. Scott Grant and Nelson had the other

Cardinals 8, Giants 4

The Cardinals got back on the winning track by beating the Giants 8 to 4 to run their season record to 7 wins against 2 losses. Steve Durso got the win with six innings of good pitching, and did not allow any walks in the process. Offensively the Cards were led by Sean Durso who had a home run and two doubles, while Keven Low also lashed a home run and a tripole. David Doyle was outstanding defensively making three unassisted put outs and started a double play.

For the Giants, Steve Dumosch had a home run and a double and Steve McGettrick and Chad Churbuck each had two hits. Dave Flanders was the losing pitcher.

Cardinals 10, Braves 5

The Cards broke open a tie ballgame in the top of the sixth inning by pushing across 7 runs and went on to beat the Braves by a 10 to 5 score. The victory runs the Card's record to 8 wins and 2 losses and they are now tied for first place. Kevin Low was the winning pitcher as he combined with David Riddeford to limit the Braves to just 3 hits. Low was the offensive hero as he had 3 hits including a long home run. David Maguire had two hits and Scott DeGregorio, Aleke Msumba and George Cioffi also chipped in with key hits. For the Braves, Troy Bloom, Mike Hogg and Barry Tucker had base hits. Tom Johnson was the losing pitcher, but pitched outstanding baseball while absorbing the loss.

Cub hits.

10-year-old David Swenson of the Dodgers was robbed of a double when his line shot down the right field line was retrieved by Cub outfielder Bobby Hughes and gunned into second to cut Swenson down. Rick Bauzi also made a big play in the last inning to erase any thoughts of a Dodger comeback.

Giants 5, Cardinals 4

The Giants broke out of their losing streak by derailing the Cardinals 5-4. Chris Colsia and John Marocco were the Major factors in the Giant victory. Together, the two handcuffed the Cards on 3 hits, while both Colsia and Marocco had big RBI doubles to key the Giant attack.

Defensively, Brandon McCue (cf) and Craig Wilson (2b) were stalwarts. Dave Weymouth showed some impressive base running by stealing home.

John Gangi, Rob Carpentier, and Steve Donovan were the big sticks for the Cards, while Matt McMannus and Matt Geiger turned in good games in the field.

Cardinals 4, Braves 3

Matt Geiger's game winning triple enabled the Cardinals to clinch at least a first half tie with the 4-3 victory over the Braves.

The 10-year-old Geiger who has day in and day out continually impressed the opposition, came up with a badly needed clutch hit, with a long rope, which was the deciding factor in the contest.

Scott Deery again was the leader for the Cardinals pitching another outstanding game. Geiger along with John Gangi came up with the big hits for the Cards.

Jonathan Yeserski also pitched an excellent game for the Braves in a losing cause. Hits by Jeff Penner and David Sullivan sparked the Braves' offense, while John Twomey, Matt Aumais, and Steve Mencis played defensively.

Tigers Finish On Top

The Tigers finished on to in Andover's American Major League first half race. Compiling a 7-1 record, the Bengals wound up a game and a half in front of the runnerup Indians.

The league opened its second half race last Saturday with a full slate of games. Winning their openers were the Tigers, Twins, Red Sox and White Sox. Regular season competition continues thru June 27.

First Half Standings

| | W-L |
|-----------|-----|
| Tigers | 7-1 |
| Indians | 6-3 |
| Orioles | 5-4 |
| Red Sox | 4-5 |
| White Sox | 3-5 |
| Yankees | 3-6 |
| Twins | 2-7 |

Tigers 9, Twins 6

The Bengals clinched a first-half tie in stopping the improving Twins. The Tigers opened with a four-run outburst and added two more in the second inning. In the meantime Scott Wallace, celebrating his 10th birthday limited the Twins to two scratch singles in his three inning pitching sting, retiring the last eight hitters he faced. The Twins found their hitting eye in the fourth inning to push across a run, but the Bengals answered with a pair of their own in the bottom of the inning. The Twins then erupted for four runs in their half of the fifth, combining some solid hitting with three Tiger miscues. The teams then traded single tallies in their last ups for the final decision.

Wallace (2-0) and Kevin Rourke shared the mound duties for the winners. Rourke led the Tigers hitters with a 3 for 3 night including two doubles. Mark Doherty cracked a double and a triple. Eric Neyman was also 2 for 3 with a double. Shane Smith and Dave Vickers added singles for the Bengals. Neyman sparked in the infield while Jamie Clarke made an outstanding defensive outfield play.

Eric Friedenson led the Twins hitters with 3 for 4 including a double. Nick Lembo was 2 for 3 with a double. Chris Sapuppo, Mark Berberian and Walter Radulski chipped in with singles. Defensively Lembo, Mark Faro and Billy O'Brien were outstanding.

Tigers 7, Indians 4

The Indians and Tigers treated the spectators to one of the finest exhibitions of Andover Little League baseball in many years. Most old timers couldn't remember when two teams battled thru ten complete innings before reaching a decision — one climaxed with a grand slam homer.

The Indians, runnerup to the Tigers in the first half of the season, opened the scoring with a pair of runs in the second inning. The Tigers got one back in the fourth and tied the game in the top of the fifth. For the next 4½ innings the scoreboard showed nothing but goose eggs, the only serious scoring threat coming in the Indians' half of the seventh inning. The Bengals opened the tenth by loading the bases. After an infield pop up the Tigers pushed across the go ahead run. Mark Doherty then smashjed a line drive shot over the left field fence for his first ever grand slam home run. Then, showing real class, the Indians scratched back in the bottom of the tenth. With two out, the Indians pushed across a pair of runs and khad the bases loaded on the final out.

Fine pitching and fielding marked the contest. The teams' combined 60 putouts included only 11 strike outs and three errors.

Kevin Rourke, Earl Abdoo and Doherty (2-1) shared the mound duties for the Tigers. Abdoo and Scott Wallace cracked doubles while Eric Neyman, Kevin and Dave Rourke chipped in with singles. Defensively, Bengal standouts were Kevin and Ray Rourke, Neyman, Wallace and Shane Smith.

Indians hurlers Jay Duhadway and Paul Sheedy were outstanding. Sheedy led the Tribe's hitters with two hits including a double. Safeties were registered by Robbie Barnard, Andy Frost, Matt Shine, Jeff Smith, John Morrow and Dave McDonough. Defensively, Indians standouts were Sheedy, Smith, Billy Earnshaw and Bobby Pothier.

Red Sox 13, Orioles 11

The hard-hitting Red Sox pounded out 17 hits as they opened the second half of the season with a 13-11 victory over the stubborn Orioles. Doug Rotondi, with a perfect 4-hit day at the plate, Mike DelTrecco and Mike Melia with three hits apiece and

David Dilling with two singles paced the Sox attack. Rotondi started and pitched well for the Sox, picking up the win with relief help from Gerry Nassif. It was a hard-fought contest in which the Orioles continually came from behind to twice tie the game, primarily on the strength of Paskowsky's hitting and bases on balls. The Sox went ahead to stay in the bottom of the 5th with Kurt Burzlaff's double

White Sox 14, Orioles 3

A fine team effort paved the way for a White Sox victory. Dino Martone demonstrated outstanding control on the mound while picking up a complete game win. Timely hitting by Greg Najjar and Doug Moon, along with well-executed bunts by Paul Oshan and Sebastian Tine helped produce a 5-run first inning. Peter Quintal and Steve Duncan also contributed to the 9-hit attack. Jeff Brodie's fine catch in rightfield put an end to an Oriole comeback effort in the top of the second. Bruce Crawford provided the Orioles with power at the plate along with David Curtis playing the role of fireman to hold the White Sox to 1 run over the last two innings.

Twins 13, Red Sox 3

Behind the excellent pitching of Mike Lane, along with a grand slam and double by Walt Radulski, the Twins piled up a 10-run lead in the first two innings and coasted for the win. Lane struck six and was tough with runners in scoring position. The Twins were helped by Eric Friedenson who had two hits and Steve Rikeman with some nifty base running. David Dilling had a solid double for the Sox and Doug Rotondi played well defensively for the Sox, as did Nick Lembo of the Twins.

Fishing Workshop At Pumps

On Saturday, June 7, the Department of Community Services, along with the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Wildlife, will offer the fourth and final workshop of their "Urban Angler" workshop series.

The program on June 7 will take place at Pumps Pond and will focus on fish preparation, cooking techniques and taste evaluation. The workshop is free and open to the public. All that is needed is a fishing license — by those who are over 15 years of age — a desire to learn and an appetite.

Although the Urban Angler program has several rods and reels on loan from private companies, individuals are encouraged to bring their own fishing gear.

The workshop begins at 11 a.m. and ends early in the afternoon. Participants should meet at the bathhouse. For further information, contact the Andover Department of Community Services office.

Basketball Camp Offered For Girls

Northern Essex Community College will offer a week-long Basketball Camp this summer for girls from 12 to 16 years of age. The camp will meet 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, July 7 to 11.

The camp will emphasize fundamental skills and will focus on the individual needs of participants. David Brown, coordinator of physical education for the Division of Continuing Education and Community Services, designed the camp to meet the growing interest in girls basketball in the Merrimack Valley. "We are concentrating on the 12 to 16 group," Brown said "because girls that age are extremely interested in learning intensive skills and strategy."

Brown said that the camp is the college's first venture into intensive summer programming in sports for youngsters. Future plans call for similar programs in soccer, softball, cheerleading and other sports.

thing that could be used for personal growth by individuals and groups in the church," he says. He formed a T.A. group, then had others trained to carry on.

He repeated the process with Parent Effectiveness Training (P.E.T.) and followed up with a Human Sexuality Program. All are still going strong, drawing from the community as well as the parish.

About eight years ago, a mother approached him with the idea of a "minding service" for multiply-handicapped children, to give mothers a chance to get out for a few hours. Mr. Pike started it with $100 from his Rector's Discretionary Fund, provided lay leaders and then into today's Christ Church Professional Nursery for the Handicapped, with a budget of nearly half million dollars. Funded by the state, individuals and foundations from Greater Lawrence, it serves 38 youngsters from 17 cities and towns.

An outgrowth of this is the Early Intervention Program for handicapped youngsters up to age 3, from Greater Lawrence only.

"We can do a better job with less money than a government-run program," Mr. Pike says. "We're not run by bureaucrats, but with love."

"After all," he goes on, "Jesus said 'Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for such is the kingdom of Heaven, Jesus's miracles healed people with the same handicaps as these children who can't see or who can't walk.'"

"This is as vital a Christian responsibility as anything we do," he goes on. "To take the Lord's Supper and not do things like this would be to not be a church."

Mr. Pike also held to an "open door policy," allowing the church to be used for any activity for the betterment of the community. He says he's been criticized many times for his stand, because some groups have been hard on the facilities. But he likes to quote a parishoner who once said, "Ed Pike would rather have the building wear out than rust out."

A lot of people have come up to Mr. Pike in recent days and asked, "What are we going to do without you?"

"The secret of the strength of this parish, he says, "is that there are literally hundreds of people with definite responsibilities: in choirs, on boards, teaching Sunday School, working in the handicapped nursery."

"A church has a stronger lay leadership than Christ Church. They're going to choose a great new leader. They're going to do great things under him and surround him with the same love and affection and he too will be blessed by the Lord."

"That's why I can have confidence in the future of this parish. That's why it's easy to write this farewell letter."

Aid For Al Hart Approved

The school committee Tuesday night approved a job description for a plant facilities foreman to come to the aid of "swamped" Plant Engineer Al Hars.

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said the new position had been provided for in next year's budget, and Committeeman Joseph Finn added that the joint maintenance subcommittee had agreed that the staffs on both the town and school sides are inadequate.

Adding a person would not hamper any efforts to combine the two maintenance departments in the future, he said.

The foreman will report directly to Hart and will generally supervise maintenance, housekeeping and security functions in the school buildings.

Seifert said that he would basically be a "field rep" for Hart. At one time, Seifert said, Hart had something like 500 projects underway.

"There's no way he can follow through on all of them," Seifert said.

In other personnel action, the committee accepted the resignations of James Duchak, resource teacher at West Jr. High since 1978, and Ilse Fersing, German teacher at Andover High since 1977.

They also elected Cynthia Ambrogne of North Andover to teach a self-contained perceptually handicapped class at East Jr. High, and approved child-rearing leaves of absence for the coming school year for Diana Fay, primary teacher at West Elementary; Susan Lunn, phys ed teacher at East Jr. High; Denice Papanastassiou, Unit B teacher at West Elementary and Janet Sakelakos, Unit C at Shawsheen.

Soda Pop

The first "soft drinks," enjoyed centuries ago, were simply effervescent waters from certain natural springs. But the sparkling waters were so refreshing that it was not long before chemists sought a method to reproduce them.

English scientist Joseph Priestley, in 1772, came up with a system for "pushing" carbon dioxide into water by dissolving it under pressure and announced the discovery of soda water. Various devices were soon developed for producing carbonated water on a commercial scale, and before long it occurred to various beverage industry pioneers that their soda water could be enlivened with flavors or fruit concentrates. Early carbonated beverages were sold in bottles sealed with porcelain stoppers which, when pushed in, released the carbon dioxide with a loud pop. Thus in the 1890's era of gleaming marble soda fountains, the expression "soda pop" was born. Three or four generations later soft drinks would surpass even coffee and tea as favored beverages.

Mercedes Offered At Smith

John Smith, with a reliable trade, deals exclusively in Mercedes at his 455 River St., Haverhill location.

With gasoline prices constantly on the upswing switching to gas-saving autos has become custom and Smith offers the Mercedes diesel which gets 24-28 miles per gallon.

"The diesels are our best and biggest sellers," he said.

The 300 SD Turbo is the newest five passenger in the Mercedes line.

The 52-year old dealership also has a good stock of non-diesel Mercedes which have been selling quite well. Among those cars is a wide range of models and prices.

The low and high end of the spectrum are the $18,000 240 Diesel Mercedes and the "flagship of the Mercedes line, the $52,000 Mercedes 6.9, the safest automobile on the road today.

Smith said, "We have a wonderful service department."

Because Smith handles Mercedes exclusively, the people who trade with Smith usually return."

The Great Split Of 1855
At one time Andover, North Andover and South Lawrence comprised the town of Andover. Thanks to the North Andover Historical Society, Memorial Hall Library is currently displaying "The Great Split of 1855", an exhibit depicting the factors leading up to the separation of Andover and North Andover 125 years ago. "Although the original settlements were in the north parish, by 1855 the south parish had more people and money and had appropriated the name Andover. In return for giving up the name and town records, North Andover received from its wealthy neighbor the sum of $6,000."

Audi 5000 Popular

The Audi 5000 Diesel, which gets 27 miles per gallon city and 43 MPG highway, is best described as getting the most for your money.

Available at Park-Hegarty Porsche Audi, Inc., 222 Lowell St., Lawrence, the car has been described in an extended use report by Road and Track magazine as the "most popular so far," after 48,000 miles of use.

Following tests over a period of time, the magazine found the Audi 5000 as follows:

"It may well be that overall the Audi 5000 has been our most successful long-term test car project. We accumulated mileage at a blistering pace, had a constant list of drivers anxious to use the car, and had few problems that were not minor. Everyone on our staff still looks forward to driving the Audi, particularly when it comes to carrying four or five adults or a family with children on trips, and it has lost little of its initial appeal as far as we're concerned. And while it has not been the least expensive car we've tested for 48,000 miles, it has returned the most value — it's been the most comfortable, has been relatively trouble free, and has delivered very good fuel economy relative to its size and carrying capacity. After living with it for more than 48,000 miles, we don't have any qualms in reaffirming our praise of the Audi 5000 as one of the Ten Best Cars for a Changed World."

Canada Days

In "Canada Days," June 7-11, Boston's Museum of Science presents an introduction to Canadian talent, from dance masks made by Northwest Indians, to puppet plays by two naturalists, to re-creation of 18th century military drills by a historical society of volunteers.

Awarded Contract

Dining and Kitchen Administration, Inc. (daka), a food service and hospitality management company, owned and operated by four Andover and North Andover residents, was recently awarded the contract to manage the total food services at the Empire State Plaza in Albany, N.Y. The complex contains seven separate cafeteria operations and major function facilities. Gross annual sales are projected to exceed 3.5 million dollars. daka was chosen from a field of ten other proposers, and replaces three national food service contractors at the facility which contains 12,000 New York State employees, the State Legislature, and a Cultural Education Center.

Daka is owned and operated by four local residents: Terry Vince, Smithshire Estates, Andover, president; Allen Maxwell, Upland Road, Andover, vice president; Leo Skellchock, Village Green, North Andover, vice president, and Mollie Rudall, Millpond, North Andover, vice president.

Reichhold Sets Sales Record

Reichhold Chemicals, Inc. has announced a 16 percent increase in sales for the year ended Dec. 31, 1979 to record levels of $874,854,000, compared to $753,885,000 for 1978. Net income of $12,230,000 increased marginally over 1978 earnings of $12,038,000. Earnings per common share were $1.34, compared to $1.32 for the prior year.

"Operating margins were narrowed, due primarily to continued rapid escalation in petrochemically-derived raw materials which increased in price more rapidly than product sales prices," stated Peter J. Fass, president.

"Operating costs with high energy content continued their sharp increases, reflecting international crude oil and hydrocarbon price escalations."

Highlighting the rapid escalation of raw material costs, LIFO adjustments for 1979 reduced earnings by $1.14 per share. In 1978, with a more moderate rate of raw material cost escalation, earnings were lowered by 26 cents per share due to LIFO adjustments.

In addition, Reichhold absorbed a before-tax loss of $1,200,000 (approximately 9 cents per share) as the result of disastrous floods at its Tuscaloosa, AL, plant in early 1979.

The effect of currency fluctuations on earnings were also significant when compared to 1978. During 1979, the corporation absorbed a pre-tax foreign exchange loss of $851,000 (4 cents per share after tax).

In 1978, Reichhold gained almost $1,400,000 pre-tax (22½ cents per share after tax) as the result of currency translations, thus creating a negative swing of almost 27 cents per share over the 1978-1979 period.

ADS AND DISCLOSURE RULE

The truth-in-lending law became effective July 1, 1969. It's also known as the disclosure rule. It requires lenders to give customers a plain statement of the credit charges involved in any transaction.

One area where it has helped to clear possible misunderstandings is in real estate ads. Remember when ads used to read like this:

"FOR SALE — 3-bedroom home in fine location, only $22,000 with $3,000 down."

Now, if the advertiser mentions the down payment, he must also mention the monthly payment and the interest rate. Tell all or tell nothing! You may advertise the selling price, or terms like "low down payment" or "easy terms". But when it comes to the big three — down payment, interest rate or monthly payment — if you mention one you have to tell all three.

The obvious reason is so buyers can't be misled by an ad that offers $2,000 down payment — and then finding out that the monthly payments are extremely high.

SELLING YOUR HOME...?

In today's sophisticated and competitive market place, people shop for a home in the same manner they shop for food, an automobile or clothing — by comparison. When your home is shown to a prospective buyer you deserve to have it presented properly by someone thoroughly knowledgeable of its benefits, able to point out its best features. There is a big difference between showing a house and SELLING a home.

At Darling Associates, a division of The Norwood Group, one of our professional Realtors will be present at every showing. Our job is to show your home in its best light. After the showing we take the responsibility of securing your property. We'll let you know the results of the visit. Basically, it boils down to the fact that we care about doing the very best we can for our client — YOU.

When you decide to sell your home take a few minutes to discuss your needs with us. We will be happy to explain the additional benefits of listing your home with The Norwoods and Darling Associates.

program was held, just as the traditional program has been run. Doherty students would get next choice with the others to follow.

Committeeman Dick Neal was the first to seek another class. He said that if the people within the school system were recommending a particular type of placement, "then we should provide it."

Colleague Donald Robb said he considered it an "option," limited by space available, just as the traditional program at West, but Neal countered that there was a "significant difference." The Traditional, Neal said, was completely a parental option, whereas people within the schools had recommended readiness placement.

Joseph Finn, serving as chairman in the absence of Elaine Viehmann, felt the excluded pupils could be accommodated in their own schools because of the flexibilities of the programs, and he said the budget was just too lean to take out $16,000 for another teacher.

"You're talking about what's just and not just for 16 to 18 students," he said. "I'm talking about the whole system. To say we'll spend the money and get another teacher is not consistent with what we've done over the last couple of years."

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said he felt a public apology was due to families "who had been promised something that they shouldn't have been."

John Merenda, 91 Lovejoy Road, said he and his wife were given the impression there was a space for their child, and spoke of the trauma of trying to decide whether to opt for the program or not.

After taking a day off work to visit the existing readiness program, he said they were enthusiastic about it, and decided they wanted it. Then they found out they couldn't have it.

Robb asked if they couldn't add a few more youngsters to the two classes next fall, but Mitsakos replied that bringing the classes up to 20 or 21 would have a "serious impact" on the effectiveness of the program.

Neal made the motion for a third class, if the hard numbers were to warrant it, and he was joined in a yes vote by Robb. Finn and John Eaton, however, voted no, making it a draw.
